LEARNING WHILE DOING

Our Call to Action

In every community we represent, people want to see fewer neighbors living outside.

Communities in this room are proving it can happen.

House People Every Day

THIS WEEK IS OUR MOMENT TO

Build on that proof

Move further together

And leave Seattle ready to Make progress people can feel

Answering the Call

Making fewer people living outside the measure that matters most

Bringing new partners to the table, from city hall and the statehouse to the downtown business district

Telling the story of our progress openly, setbacks included

Leaving with a commitment our community will act on

Tell Your Story

If my time here becomes a turning point in my work, the story I want to tell when I return home is...
